"The Great Wave Mosaic" Unweiling Ceremony!

Mural Reception for "The Great Wave Mosaic" by Bette Ann Libby and James Otis Elementary School on November 13th from 3-5pm at the Otis School, 218 Marion Street, East Boston.

This mural project, in the style of Hokusai's "Great Wave", was created with parents and children from the James Otis School Family program, made up of community members learning English as a second language. We used ceramics shards, old bottles and mirror to create the wave which was grouted on the last day. Parents were invited to write "messages" to place in the bottles.

The 4 ½ x 8 foot mosaic is now hanging in the hallway of the James Otis School, East Boston, MA.

Supported by Boston Harbor Arts, East Boston Foundation, Paula Goncalves, Otis School Principal, Liz Nofziger, Coordinator & Susan Klaw, Director Otis Family School, and Elizabeth Michelman.
